What Is Going On Tonight
Puritan Temple No. 2, Knights of Pythias, meets at 807 Main street.

The annual meeting of A. C. Tyler camp, No. 1, U. S. W. V., held on Wednesday night at the armory on Front street, was one of the most successful ever held in the history of the camp. About fifty members and a like number of guests enjoyed the meeting and the banquet which followed. In the absence of Camp Commander William E. Jackson, Past Commander Frank P. Fenton was toastmaster. At the opening of the banquet Mr. Fenton proposed a toast to the Grand Army of the Republic which was drunk with due reverence.

Following his remarks by outlining the positions which he held in the army and navy at the close of the Spanish-American war, Mr. Fenton said that this marked the beginning of the United States standing as a world power. The speakers of the evening were Mayor Charles A. Gates, Commander A. P. Benner, Commander of Francis S. Long post, No. 10, G. A. R., Captain W. P. E. Keating, Commander of James J. Shea post, No. 13, American Legion, Past Department Commander Martin Lauchner of Rockville, Commander James Haggerty of the G. A. R., ex-Mayor Daniel P. Dunn, Past Commander John J. Connors of Milne Camp of Rockville, Captain Joseph Morrison of Company G, 14th Infantry, Past Commander Robert O. Snow, and John S. Dalley of Tyler Camp, Commander Louis H. Ashton and Timothy Quinn, also of Tyler Camp, the last named a veteran of the Indian and Civil wars, Commander Adam Dunn of the G. A. R., and Commander Simms of Rockville, who has been with the colors the greater part of the time since 1898.

The theme of the speakers was patriotism, all emphasizing the need of love of country, and need of remembering those who have served this country during the various wars. The committee in charge of the evening consisted of Commander Jeremiah McCarthy, chairman, assisted by Commander J. R. Paulhus and John J. Snow.

The following members of the business men's club of the Y. M. C. A. are to meet on Saturday to play off the valley hall preliminaries with teams representing the Norwich and New London Y. M. C. A.s. Hillhouse, Conklin, Roper, Gilman, Buchanan, Dondero, Hickey, Ross and Mustard. The winning team at Norwich will go to New Haven to try for the state championship.

Indorse. (Walter) Heller will go before the court Saturday morning to endeavor to have the stock of Janice, a ginger bread at his store in a recent raid, returned to him. Mr. Heller claims that although the Janice ginger bread was in his store he had sold none since January 1. The local officials on receiving application for the return of the Janice ginger bread could not return it as the ginger bread was an intoxicating liquor since the night by Heller.

Wednesday marked the anniversary of the appointment of Lieutenant Allan MacArthur and Officer Louis J. Paulhus as members of the Willimantic police department. Lieutenant MacArthur was appointed Feb. 1, 1922, Officer Paulhus was appointed February 1, 1922, and ranks second in service to Chief Daniel Kluge.

At the annual meeting of the Men's club of the First Methodist Episcopal church the following officers were re-elected: President, Fred P. Davell; vice president, Clayton Chatterbox; secretary, Albert C. Scriver; treasurer, James H. Bentley. At the close of the meeting Rev. John Pearce, pastor, gave an interesting talk on The Elements of Success.

The body of Patrick J. Brennan arrived in this city Thursday morning and a funeral service was held at St. Joseph's church, by Rev. John E. Clark. Mr. Brennan died recently at his home in Newark, N. J. As the body was borne into the church, Leo Haggerty sang "Lead, Kindly Light, at the offertory, O Christ, as a waiting lamp." The body was placed in the receiving vault at St. Joseph's cemetery.

The hearers were Thomas, Daniel, Edward, David, and Timothy Neilligan. The Killourey Brothers were in charge.

Mrs. Ellen Anne Ucles Cummins, 54, died Wednesday night at St. Joseph's hospital after a month's illness. She was brought to Jay M. Shepard's undertaking parlors in this city and on Thursday conveyed to Cedar Hill cemetery, Hartford, where a service was read at 1 o'clock by Rev. G. T. Lindsay, pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd.

At the last regular meeting of A. C. Tyler Auxiliary, No. 14 the following

COLCHESTER

Hattie Jackson Temple, No. 25, Pythian Sisters held a special meeting in Pythian hall, Wednesday, following an absence of the grand chief or lioness, Mrs. Clara J. Whitaker, of Stamford, Conn. The grand chief complimented the temple upon the excellency of its work in the short time that the temple has been organized. After the work of the evening a lunch of sandwiches, cake and coffee was served and games and other entertainments were provided.

James and Irving Horowitz were visitors in Hartford, Wednesday. William Holderman of Lakeville, was the guest Wednesday of Selectman Samuel McDonald.

Abraham Laskin left Wednesday for a few days business trip to New York. Jake Laskin has returned after two weeks' visit with New York relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lyman were in Hartford, Wednesday attending "Way Down East."

Harold Porter of South Windham was visiting in town, Tuesday.

George W. Moore of Salem was a caller here Wednesday.

Harry Laskin motored to Norwich Wednesday.

F. L. Church of Willimantic was in town Wednesday.

The entire community mourned with Dennis Griffin's family, the sudden death of Mrs. Griffin. She was apparently recovering following an operation performed in a Providence hospital last Tuesday. Wednesday, at noon, word was received that she was doing well, although not out of danger. There came a sudden change, and she died at four o'clock.

Mrs. Griffin was one of the best housewives and neighbors the town possessed. She was a devoted mother and wife. Her family is shown by the fact that she and Mr. Griffin took into their home five small children, sons and daughters of two of Mrs. Griffin's sisters who died. She has cared for them with a mother's love and devotion and they have gone out into the world as young men and women.

Mrs. Griffin was born in Ireland, the daughter of Jeremiah and Nora Sullivan Haggerty. For many years the family lived in Milford, but have lived in Jewett City thirty-five years. She is survived by her husband and one daughter, Miss Helena Griffin, of Jewett City and her father, brother and a sister in Ireland. The niece and nephews who lived in her home are Joseph and Margaret Driscoll, now of Milford, and Margaret Driscoll, now of Milford, and George Leyden of Jewett City. Mary Leyden, another niece, died recently.

Miss Conley, a Red Cross nurse from headquarters is to give the first lesson in first aid at the Red Cross room on Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock. There is still room for members in the class, whose names Miss Conley is prepared to receive.

Prominent Movie Producer

Although these in the motion picture industry have long been familiar with the name of J. L. Frothingham as one of its most prominent producers the public heretofore has heard but little of him. This was in accord with his policy and his personal preference, for he is that seemingly anomalous in the films; one who really does not desire personal publicity.

W. M. Mrs. Dorothy C. Dyer, P. M. Mrs. Lillian R. Crumb and P. M. Mrs. Emma Gilbert of Path chapter, No. 82, O. E. S., have been in Hartford attending the forty-ninth annual session of the grand chapter of Connecticut.

Grand Master Mrs. Mabel E. Hitchcock of West Haven, has appointed P. M. Mrs. Lillian R. Crumb grand warden of the Order of Eastern Star of Connecticut. At the installation in Hartford, Tuesday, W. M. Dorothy C. Dyer presented her a grand warden pocket book containing a five dollar gold piece, the gift of members of Path chapter.

The Ashland Fish and Game Protective association meeting was well attended. Reports were made on the liberation and location of the trout and Bluefish phasmas raised by the association.

The association successfully raised and liberated 25 full grown phasmas at a cost of 85 cents per bird, which were liberated in pairs in the local vicinity. The association has been assured that they are to receive quite a few phasmas from the state next year and as the association expects to raise more of these birds on a larger scale in time to be liberated before the hunting season, there should be plenty of these birds for the hunters this year.

A committee was appointed to investigate and protect the wild rice which would draw ducks and geese in large numbers. Will Rice is one of the farmers who have been most intelligent and with greater effort assist in the securing and maintaining of proper legislation of the duck and geese and action in all matters pertaining thereto.

The activities at the general assembly in Hartford were for the most part successful due to the fact that it was recognized that the representative body of the fishermen and hunters of the state.

As the association has one of the best trap groups that can be found anywhere, it was decided to hold a shoot next Saturday afternoon, Feb. 4th, and if successful shooting will be held each week end.

Members and their friends have declared their intentions of visiting the trap grounds Saturday afternoon. A marked improvement was noticed in the shooting ability of the members who participated last year.

The Ashland basketball team added another victory to its list Wednesday night in Bluff hall, when they defeated Williams All Collegians 20 to 18. Blake and Volcott, a new man or Ashland, kept the crowd on keen edge with their long and difficult shots, while Captain W. Benjamin brought cheers from the crowd with his clever dodging. Murphy played a strong game for the All Collegians. The lineup:

Basket: Benjamin, Blake, Volcott, 4, Jeffers, 2, Leckie, 1, Murphy, 6, Findlayson, 1, Williams, 1, Poul, baskets, Volcott, 2.
